

The diagram illustrates a page layout with a blue border. At the top, two horizontal dashed lines define a margin, with a double-headed arrow and the letter 'A' indicating its height. A large red dotted rectangle occupies the central portion of the page. At the bottom, three lines of text with leader lines point to the right edge of the red dotted rectangle. The first line points to the top edge, the second to the middle, and the third to the bottom edge.
